The Government to Be Asked in Parity ment What it Proposes to Do About the Prium of Waler's Part in the Receases Seandal-The Prince Stung by Criticism

-Emperor William One of His Critics. LONDON, June 12.- The Official Gazette announces this evening, under date of June 10, that the name of Sir William Gordon-Cumming was been removed from the list of officers in the army, as her Majesty has no further occasion for his services.

The storm rising round the Prince of Wales in consequence of his connection with the bac-earst scandal increases in intensity, endangering his chances of succession to the throne, if not the existence of the English monarchy, great middle class, the real strength of the the monarchy. Wherever its voice becomes of Wales are accompanied by regrets at his nearness to the throne, Representative gatherings of religious bodies. Congregational, Methodist, Baptist, Unitarian, and Presbyterian, have already recorded their condemnation. Boards of Guardians are going out of their accustomed paths to discuss motions branding the gam-bit is propensities of the Prince of Wales as a disgrace to the country. Several Liberal societies have adopted protests against his continuance in the army. The agitation has every character of permamence. It has not yet touched more than a fringe of the political parties, but ere long the fierceness of the popular heat must penetrate to the core of politics, causing party action within and without Parliament.

In the House of Commons on Monday next Mr. William Summers (Liberal), member for Huddersfield, and Mr. Henry Peyton Cobb (Radical Nonconformist), member for the Rugby division of Warwickshire, will question the Right Hon. Edward Stanhope, Secretary of State for War, as to what action he intends to take in regard to the three officers, Field liams, and Lieut, Berkeley Levett of the Scots which practically allowed Sir William Gordon Cumming to remain an officer of the British army, although he was believed to have cheated at cards; and as to what action he intends to take in regard to the same officers in haring broken the army regulations requiring that such a case as the one which occurred at Tranby Croit in September last should be brought to the no.ice of the commanding officers.

should be brought to the no.ice of the commanding officers.

The Hadical members have been warned that Mr. Gladstone resents the movement, and that the leaders of the opposition will actively show their renugnance to associating Liberals with an agitation tending to cast discredit on the Crown. A group of Radicals, meeting tomight after Sir William Cummings's dismissal from the army was gazetted concurred in the opinion that the leaders had missuken the feeling of the nation; that even on party groupds it was impossible to neglect the duty to take the sense of Parliament on the position of the Prince of Wales and the others concerned. The Radicals will not be content with anything less than action by the military authorities involving the same official reproof of the Prince of Wales, Gen. Williams, and Lieut, Levett. The prosecution of Sir William and the others for idegal gambling will be made a part of the demand on the Government, but it will not be convestly pressed.

iligal gambling will be made a part of the demand on the Government, but it will not be carnestly pressed.

Conferences have been held at the War Office, attended by Mr. Stanbope, the Duke of Cambridge, Field Marshal and Commander inchief, the Duke of Connaught, Gan. Redvers liulier, and Col. Stracey, in command of the rects Fusilier Gusrds (Sir William Gordon-Cumminga's regiment, and it is reported that they decided that the Prince of Wales, Gen. Williams, and Lieut. Levert had committed no offence against military law, but only a technical breach of the regulations. Mr. Stanbope, therefore, basing honday's response to questions on the decision of the conference will probably declare that the Commander-in-Chief will deal with the case privately without regard to regulations. It is said that Sir William Gordon umming announced to the military authorities his readmens to meet the charge of playing an illegal game.

In reference to the Earl of Coventry, it is reported that he has intimated to Lord Sailsbury his readiness to resign the office of Master of the resignation is delayed until the Government sees how Lord Coventry's retirement is likely to affect the position of the Prince of Wales.

Club sentiment naturally supports the Prince. Although the Chairman of the Mariborough Club Committee writes repudiating the high play in vogue at the club, and denying that games of hazard are allowed, it is publicly known that the club has just elected Wilson and other baccarat friends of the Prince of Waler. Nor has the scandal lessened the Prince's popularity in the turf set. The rumors of his bad reception at Ascot are a perversion of the facts. The turf crowds

The rumors of his bad reception at Ascot are a perversion of the facts. The turf crowds seemed bent on consoling him, and he had the heartiest groeting. He was specially cheered to-day when his horse Imp won the Highweight Plate.

Court direles are much exercised over letters from the German Court rehecting the opinion of Emperor William. It is believed that the Emperor has written the Queen a long and serious criticism on the Prince's life, dilating especially upon the gambling of officers as a grave offence to military honor, made worse by the signing of a paper permitting a Colone of the Guarde convicted of cheating to retain his commission in the army. The Queen, it is said, forwarded the latter to the Prince of Wiles.

said. forwarded the latter to the Prince of Wales.

Earl Cadogan, Lord Privy Seal, bearing a letter from the Queen, had a long conference to day with Lord Salisbury in regard to the position of the Prince in view of the outery cause thy the baccatat scandal.

It is rainored that the Prince, in order to relieve the Duke of Cambridge from his embarrassing predicament, has expressed his willingness that a military court should be convened to make an inquiry into the circumstances, regardless of the rank or title of the officers involved in the condonation of Sir William Gordon-Cumming's offence.

It is understood that the Prince of Wales is keenly stung by the adverse press criticisms which have been showered upon him from all quarters. Especially is this the case in regard to the newspaper comments which practically accuse him of revealing the secret of the Tranby Croft scandal, and rofer to the fact that he was not asked if he had spoken of the affair to anybody after Sir William Gordon-Cumming signed the incriminating decument, while this question was put to all the other witnesses for the delendants. The Prince of Wales emphatically denies that he dividged the secret to anybody.

The Southern Baptist Association has passed ically denies that he divulged the secret to anybody.

The Bouthern Baptist Association has passed a resolution condemning the Prince of Wales for the part he took in the baccarat scandal, and instructing the Secretary of the association to send the Prince a copy of the resolution.

At a meeting of the St. Olave's Guardians, in South Landon, a member moved a resolution declaring that the gambling of the Prince of Wales was adisgraced to the country. The Chairman overfuled the motion and refused to allow it to be put. An exciting scone followed. The meeting was in an uproar and strong feeling was manifested on both sides. The iriends of the movern of the resolution denounced the Prince of Wales in unmousured terms. The Chairman finally quit his sent and left the ball, and the meeting broke up, disorder continuing to the end.

Sir William Gordon-Cumming arrived at Grantham to-day irom Woollaston Hall and thence started for Forres. He had rejused the effer of a public wele-ine at Forres, but when asked to reconsider his refusal he wired the Provest assenting to a demonstration. The municipal authorities will meet the pair at the station. The town will make a holiday of the occasion and is raising floral arches on the route to Altyre. Lany Gordon-Cumming writes to friends here that she intends to make a prolonged stay at Altyre, mobably over the shooting season. After a month's rest and seclusion she will entertain nunerous guests at Altyre. Her husband is in good a irits and continues to receive assurances of unbroken esseen from many friends.

The stricle proceeds to excuse the Prince of Wales for failing to resert to a drastic exposure of his friend, and concludes thus;

The Courth Times advices the Prince of Wales to sign a renunciation of eard playing in the presence of Lord Halisbury and the Archbishop of Canteriury. This, it says, would have a tremesdous moral effect unon society, and would not harm the Prince of Wales.

DENDURGING THE PRINCE IN CANADA.

DENOUNCING THE PRINCE IN CANADA. TORONGING THE PRINCE IN CANADA.

TORONGO, June 12.—Seathing references were made in the Toronto Methodist Conference today to the Prince of Wales's connection with the baccarat scandair. The venerable Dr. Douglass of Montreal said:

"Another year has brought to our gracious Queen sadness, sorrow, and diminished spirit. Over the throne hange the black shadow of a ghastly spectre. Among us has arisen a second George IV. The beir to this empire's throne has been convicted. The people of the empire know he has been concerned in a demoralizing and infamous abomination. Nover, I hope, will loyal Methodiam cease to denounce whatever is wrong. The awful spectacle of the heir to the throne publicly acknowledging his complicity in a gambling transaction will do more to weaken the power of the throne than anything that has happened for years.

The Rev. Dr. Potts said he had often protested against scandalously false reports about the royal family in the newspapers. Now he had to acknowledge with the whole world that the nation had been diagraced.

LADY GORDON-CUMMING.

New York Society Not Concerned Over Mor Marriage with the Defeated Baronet. The fact that Lady Gordon-Cumming, who is the daughter of the late William L. Garner of this city, has been formally, and ac-erding to a published announcement, authoritatively repudiated by her family for becoming the wife of the Baronet, has not excited New York society in the least. It has been commented upon, but has created nt has been commented upon, but has created no unusual excitement, and probably because the young woman who has chosen Sir William for her busband is almost utterly unknown to New Yorkers, she having lived in Europe since the death of her parents, fliteen years since the death of her parents, fifteen years ago.

The fashionable world is not likely to concern itself very much over the action of hiss Florence Garner, the present Lady Gordon-Unmmins. A woman in the fashionable set said last evening, in answer to the question about the marriage, that Miss Garner had for a long time been an ardent admirer or Sir William Gordon-Cummins, and she fully understood the wishes of her family. The Marrius and Marquise de Breteuit, the brother-in-law and stater of Lady Gordon-Cumming, passed yesterday at West Point, Mrs. Thomas Garner, the aunt, is at present out of towa.

ATTACKING THE CHRISTIAN MISSIONS Reports of Serious Eloting in the Interior of China.

Lownow June 12 - Despatches from Shanghal announce fresh excesses on the part of the anti-European element in the population of China. Attacks upon the Christian missions in the interior continue. In one case the Chinese troops sent to repress the rioters sided with them and made matters still worse. More serious rioting has occurred at Takatang, where the women missionaries were compelled to flee for their lives. They reached Kin-Kiang, one of the treaty ports on the Yang-tse-Kiang River.

The reports received from the scene of the lawless outbreaks indicate that there is great excitement among the Chinese living in the vicinity of Lake Poyang, near Kin-Kiang, where the women from Takatang have sought reliuse. About the neighborhood of the lake several missionary establishments have been looted and burned to the ground by the riotous Chinese.

Germany's Grain Dutles,

BERLIN, June 12.-In the Lower House of the Prussian Diet to-day the debate on the grain duties was resumed. Chancellor von Caprivi declared that it was impossible for the Government to submit to the House the reports which had been received from foreign countries in regard to the inquiries made by the Governregard to the inquiries made by the Government about grain matters. But, the Chancelor added, commenting on the Eussian report, there was no danger that Russia could not supply sufficient grain for the use of Germany. After considerable additional debate Herr Rickert's motion of yesterday that the Government should submit to the House the material upon which Chancellor von Caprivi based his recent speech upon the grain duties was rejected by a vote of 223 to 20.

LONDON, June 12.—Several Tory members of Parliament, in the interest of the cartle trade, are pressing Mr. Chaplin to refuse American inspectors the privilege of supervising the de-cisions of British officials inspecting imported cisions of British officials inspecting imported cattle. Dr. Salmon's unreserved acceptance of recent diagnoses by American officials conflicting with the diagnoses of British inspectors led to an outery that the presence of American inspectors was unconstitutional and that the United States had no more right to place veterinary inspectors in English ports than had other countries sending cattle. Mr. Chapile in the mean time finds it politic to continue the existing system.

The venerable Col. Whitney died at his home near Franklin Greve, Ill., on Thursday, Healizing several months ago that the end must come soon, he called together all his friends on his last birthday, Jan. 22, when he was 100 years old, and hade them a last favewell. Col. Whitney was probably one of the oldest members of the Masonie order in the world, having been initiated into that fraternity June 22, 1817. Chice Ouden died at Indianapolis vesterday. Mr. Hummel was convinced that his ques William Linsley Lawrence, aged 72 years, one of the most prominent citizens of Piermont, died yesterday afternoon. Years ago Mr. Lawrence built the Frie long dock in Jersey City, and also the Erie docks at Dunkirk on Lake Erie. He had beld many important poets, and was a prominent Mason and Odd Fellow. He retired from active business twenty years ago.

for when pressed by questions she persisted in concealing her face behind it.

Mr. Hummel was convinced that his questions had a telling effect on the co-respondent, and he was pained to think that the effect was lost on the jury. He asked Miss Tunstall to remove her face from concealment, and when she did not readily oney begged Judge Oaborne to instruct her to abandon the use of the fan as a veil.

Miss Tunstall looked the picture of misery when she came to the witness stand. She was as painfully slow in answering questions as she was on Thursday afternoon, and her backwardness apparently, worried not only the Judge and the counsel, but the jury. Her answers were given in such a low ione that bleuographer Biggelow was forced to repeat them before counsel could proceed.

In answer to Mr. Hummel's questions Miss Tunstall testified that Mrs. Crary, her counsing was married before she the witness word to live with the Howells. She first met Mr. Grary at their house, and she heard Mrs. Howell say that Mr. Crary should not trouble her husband so much about money. She did not remember having heard Mr. Howell say anything against Mr. Crary.

"Did you leave your aunt's house because he sain she wouldn't trust you with Mr. Howell?" asked Mr. Hummel suddenly.

"No." replied Miss Tunstall, with a burst of indignation. "She never made use of such a remark to my knowledge. I cannot tell you way I left the Howells, but I was certainly in possession of my senses when I went to live with the Crarys.

"You are a lady of education and refinement," suddenly remarked Mr. Hummel.

There was quite a pause before Miss Wilhelminn answered this spparently simple question. She hid her face behind her fan and wept silently for a second or two. After n and wept silently for a second or two. After n and wept silently for a second or two. After n and steriled that Mr. Crary made his first advances to her a week or two after January, 1890. He was greatly devoted to Presbyterian Church work, and had long filled the place of Secretary of the Broome County Sunday School Association. He leaves a widow. him and left the room. She thought he was insane.

"Did you believe him to be insane?" haked Mr. Hummel.

"I did not." responded the witness, quietly, after another pause. "But I did not know what he meant by his conduct."

The witness said she went to Mr. Howell's home to tell the people there about Mr. Crary's misbehavior. but when she got there she couldn't tell them, so she went back to the Crarys. At first she hated Mr. Crary, but after a time she began to love him. She could not remember when the change from hatred to love took place. It was gradual, she loved him before the acts charged in the divorce complaint were committed. Asa M. Frey died yesterday morning at his cottage in Ocean Grove, of heart failure, at the age of 74. He was for many years a builder and contractor in Jersey City, and served for two terms as Judge of the Hudson county courts. He left a number of children. His eldest son is Dr. Francis M. "There was a lock and key to your door, and it was possible for you to lock your door if you did not want him to come in?" suggested Mr. Hummel.
"Yes." said Miss Tunstall. softly. "But he ROCHESTER, June 12 .- During the many years B. Anthony has had practically no place she could call her home. Her sister, Miss Mary Anthony, has lived at the old Anthony homestead in this city, and with her Miss Anthony has stopped during her rare resting spells. The ladies of the Woman's Political Club of this city determined to remedy this state of affairs, and during Miss Anghene's recent absence in Boston they renovated and furnished the homestead, sparing no effort or expense to make it an ideal home. Last night, Miss Anthony having returned, ahouse warming was given her. It was a notable gathering of bright people. There were no speeches or formally, but Miss Anthony fittingly expressed her thanks for her "house beautiful." Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton will seend the summer with Miss Anthony, and a room has been furnished especially for her.

"Yea," said Miss Tunstall, softly. "But he was rapping."
"And for isar that some one would hear him you locked the door?" asked Mr. Hummel cape of the control of the contr

Miss Tunstall did not appear at the afternson session. Alma Anderson a servant, who lived in the Plaza place fat and was aroused by Mrs. Crary when she made the discovery of her husband's misconduct, testified that when ahe was aroused Mrs. Crary and Mr. Crary were prancing around the nursery very much excited and in their night cinthes. Alma was also in her night dress, and Miss Tunstall was in bed. When Alma appeared Mr. Crary, who was much agritated, asked:

"How are you going to shut Alma up? Are you going to pay her?"

"I'll ax it all right with Alma," said Mrs. Crary.

you going to pay her?"

"I'll fix it all right with Alma." said Mrs.
Crar.

This was the last testimeny. Mr. Hummel requested Judge Osborne to charge the jury to return a negative answer to the three issues of fact involved; that is to the three issues of fact involved; that is to the three assecifications of inddelity. As there was no direct evidence on the second specification Judge Osborne charged as directed, as to that one, but he refused to so charge on the first and third questions. Then Mr. Hummel took an exception

"Do you propose to go on now with the defence?" asked Judge Osborne.

"I take exceptions to your Honor's ruling, and the defendant resis." said Mr. Hummel.

This created another sensation. The lawyers then summed up and the jury retired. It returned in jorty minutes with a verdict for the plaintiff, declaring that Crary was guilty on the first and third counts.

Only ex-Mayor Howell was present for the family when the verdict was returned. The ladies had retired. After the verdict, Mr. Hummel made a motion for a new trial, and this was denied. The verdict gives Mrs. Crary her divorce.

ONLY HALF A PRIMARY. The Republican Spitt to Widor Than Ever

In the Fift'. The Bepublican primary in the Fift' yesterday, presided over by Charles H. Murray's harmonizing and regenerating committee, was a tame and spiritless affair, entirely unworthy the "black-and-tan district." The machine's candidate, Stephen B. French, and his friends. with a few of The Allen's crowd, were on the only ticket in the field, and only two hundred of the Four Hundred Republicans on the new roll took the trouble to vote. Frank Carroll and his people refrained from voting. Aleck McCl sen and a lew others looked in at the primary to see that none of their men voted.

They wish to keep the record clear to make the point that the committee was packed against them, and thus to justify themselves in the jurpose they have formed of acting independently in politics, hereafter. Beside these declarations they said that the tickets o quietly elected contained a lot of Democrata, and was representative of County Committee influence and not of the Republican voters of the distinct.

The officers elected were Daniel Mooney. President: John Knox and Patrick Cunniam, Vice-Presidents: George H, Brookmeier, Necrotary: Roland Connors, Tressurer: William Chamberlain. Ran Away to be a Sailor Boy.

PLAINFIELD, June 12.—Five days ago Johnny O'Hara the 7-year-old son of Thomas O'Hara of Flemington, ran away from home to become a sailor boy. His father telegraphed his de scription all over the State. This morning scription all over the State. This morning Policeman Flaragan noticed a very diviy little boy trotting along Front street. His shoes were full of heles and his clothes in tatters. Something made him think of the missing Flemington ind, and so he arrested the little fellow, who at irrst said he was Willie Hamilion of Grant avenue, but he soon broke down and confessed that he was the boy who was wanted. His father was sent for, and he took the boy home. The boy walked all the way from Flemington, forty miles, without a cent in his pocket.

A Determined Attempt at Suicide. A severe attack of the grip is supposed to have made John Heinrich, a partender who boarded at 1,116 First avenue, light-headed. Yesterday morning he left home early and went to the foot of East Forty-second street where he sat down on the stringpiece and wro e a farewell in German to his father and wrote a farewell in German to his father and brother.

Daniel Callaghan of 329 East Thirty-ninth street saw Heinrich finish his writing and then jump into the East River. Callaghan got a rope and threw it three times to the man struggling in the water, but Heinrich refused to grasp the rope. Then the young man made a running noose and threw it over Heinrich's head, twenty-four feet away. Then he pulled in the new unconscious bartender, who was rolled on a barrel until he recovered. Then he was taken a prisoner to Bellevue.
